The steamers to-morrow will take $500,000 or $600,000 in specie. The business of the Clearing-House is $20,632,541. In money we have no change to receive. Adrian H. Muller has an administrator's sale of stocks-to-morrow (Saturday) at the Merchants' Exchange. The Hendrik Hudson Insurance Co., with a capital of $150,000 has offices at No. 124 Broadway, W. H. Ritter, Secretary; Geo. S. Doughty, President, and W. W. Dean, Vice-President. The coupons of the Evansville and Crawfordsville Road, due last May, will be paid by the Farmers' Trust Company, No. 56 Wall-street. The American Exchange Bank has declared a dividend of 3½ per cent, payable 7th of May. The meeting of the stockholders of the La Crosse Road, alluded to yesterday, is to be held at Albany on the 22d prox. The coupons of the Mississippi Central Road are paid by A. H. Giesen.

The meeting of bondholders of the Milwaukee and Mississippi Road was well attended to-day, and the reorganization scheme, which we printed yesterday, was favorably received. A Committee was appointed to consider the matter and report on Monday next. The Committee consists of Messrs. John Wilkinson, Ed. Western, F. P. James, Wm. M. Van Hoffman, Allen Campbell, F. Randall, and Cowdry.

The receipts of all kinds of grain at Chicago have largely increased during the year. From the 1st of January, 1859, to April 21, the receipts of corn were 280,345 bushels, while during the same time this year they have been 2,937,157. The amount of flour and grain now in store at Chicago, is 1,630,856 bushels, but at this time it was 865,788 bushels.

The financial advice by the Africa's are very interesting, as throwing some light upon the mystery of the sudden tightening of the London Money market, for which there was heretofore no satisfactory explanation. The stringency is shown to be of an artificial nature, and the solution of the matter had at the latest date produced already a better feeling in moneyed circles, and money was again offered more freely. Consuls had also improved under the theory that the high rates of interest would be but temporary. The weekly return of the Bank of England show a decrease of £246,495 in the bullion, and an increase of £1,621,665. The statement is regarded as a singular one, and in the Times City Article allusion is made to a report that discount firms, irritated at their exclusion by the Bank rule which prohibits rediscouting, have resolved to draw from the Bank as many notes as possible, to lock these notes up, and thus to create a sense of scarcity, and such an inconvenient advance in the Bank terms, that shall induce unwise men to believe that they are suffering through the inability of the discount houses to help them, and that this inability is caused by the exclusion of those houses from the Bank. The Times professes to give currency to this rumor only for the sake of enabling an unequivocal contradiction to be observed without delay. The Daily News asserts more positively that the leading firms have already withdrawn the bulk of their funds from the Bank. A portion of these have lent in the Stock Exchange on Government securities, and now that the market is fully supplied they have collected the money and placed it in the safe of one of the discount houses to hold cheap. This is the main cause of the remarkable changes in to-night's Bank return.

We see that, although the "public" deposits have decreased to the extent of £1,600,000, the decrease in the reserve is no less than £1,600,000, and the balance of the Bank's assets is only £6,464,368. Consequently, although the repayment to the Bank of the quarterly advances has caused the "other" account to run off to the extent of £1,481,736, the decrease in the reserve is still £1,600,000, and the balance of the Bank's assets is only £6,464,368.
